

My work as the Director of Placemaking at Gallaudet University requires that I fundraise for projects that I do on and around the campus. I have spoken to many people in arts organization and they all point me to CAH grants as a way to financially support my projects. However, I often find that Gallaudet University is not eligible for CAH Grants because of a weird loophole where we are a 501c3 entity, but we are also a college/university. We contribute so much to the city's vibrancy and would love to continue this through grant support. I wonder if there is a way to revisit that language where perhaps colleges/universities with 501c3 status are eligible to apply?

Thank you for your consideration.
